WVU POLICY G - 1

RECORD RETENTION POLICY & SCHEDULE

1. PURPOSE & SCOPE:

1.1. Purpose. This Policy outlines the systematic review, retention, and destruction of Records received or created at West Virginia University, including West Virginia University Institute of Technology and Potomac State College of West Virginia University (collectively the “University”).

1.1.1. The Policy is designed to ensure compliance with federal and state laws and regulations, to eliminate accidental or innocent destruction of Records, and to facilitate University operations by promoting efficiency and reducing unnecessary storage of records.

1.2. Scope. This Policy applies to all University Records and to all University employees.

2. TYPES OF RECORDS, UNIVERSITY RETENTION SCHEDULE, ELECTRONIC RECORDS, AND OFFICIAL DOCUMENT CUSTODIANS.

2.1. Types of Records.

2.1.1. Not all Records created by University constitute Retainable Records that must be retained for certain periods of time. Rather, only Retainable Records must be kept.

2.1.1.1. Generally, a Record is anything that contains information regarding the University made or received in connection with its operations regardless of whether it is a hard copy or electronic, and includes, but is not limited to, written and printed matter, books, drawings, maps, plans, photographs, microforms, motion picture films, sound and video recordings, e-mails, computerized or other electronic data on hard drives or network drives, or copies of these items.

2.1.2. For purposes of this Policy, there are two sub-types of Records: Incidental Records and Retainable Records.

2.1.2.1. Retainable Record: Any Record that is contained within the University Retention Schedule or is otherwise required by law to be retained by a Unit.

2.1.2.2. Incidental Records: Any Records not contained within the University Retention Schedule or otherwise required by law to be retained by a Unit. Examples include routine communications, internal meeting notices, cover letters or transmittal memoranda, drafts, notes, and duplicate copies of Retainable Records that are not being stored in the official location or with the official custodian. Incidental Records need be retained only so long as is necessary to complete the action or resolve the issue that is the subject of the record.

2.1.2.3. If there are any questions about whether an item is considered a Record or whether a Record is Retainable or Incidental, please contact the Office of General Counsel.

2.2. University Retention Schedule.

2.2.1. The University Retention Schedule, Exhibit A to this Policy, details all Retainable Records that must be retained for the specified periods of time necessary to satisfy the University's business and legal obligations as well as to preserve the University's history. All Records (whether Retainable and Incidental) must be retained and/or disposed of in accordance with this Policy and the University Retention Schedule.

2.2.2. Each Unit is responsible for ensuring that its faculty and staff follow the Policy and the University Retention Schedule. Individual Units may have an employee that manages the destruction of all Records for that Unit.

2.2.3. Although certain Retainable Records may require a shorter or longer period of time for retention, as indicated in the University Retention Schedule, as a general rule, most Retainable Records should be retained for five years. For Retainable Records involving minors, the retention period should be the amount of time until the minor reaches the age of eighteen and then the normal retention period.

- 2.2.4. To the extent a Unit possesses a category of Retainable Records not set forth in the University Retention Schedule, an individual Unit should contact the Office of General Counsel to determine whether supplementation of the University Retention Schedule is necessary.

2.3. E-mail and Other Electronic Records.

- 2.3.1. Units have an obligation to preserve and safeguard information in e-mail and other electronic records that constitute Retainable Records.
- 2.3.2. If e-mail or other electronic records constitute the Retainable Record, then those e-mails or other electronic records must be retained and then destroyed in accordance with the retention periods set forth in the University Retention Schedule.
- 2.3.2.1. Unless specifically provided in the University Retention Schedule, email and other electronic records should not be kept permanently.
- 2.3.2.2. E-mails or other electronic records can be retained in hard copy, by electronic archive, or in removable storage devices. Once the e-mail or electronic record is saved in another format, however, there is no obligation additionally to retain it in multiple forms, unless it is subject to a Litigation Hold, in which case all forms must be retained.
- 2.3.3. While not all e-mails and other electronic records are Retainable Records, all University e-mails and other electronic records are property of the University and may be subject to Freedom of Information Act requests and discovery in the event of litigation or other proceedings involving the University.

2.4. Official Document Custodians.

- 2.4.1. The University Retention Schedule identifies specific Units that serve as the Official Document Custodian for certain categories of Retainable Records.
- 2.4.2. Another Unit, i.e., one that is not listed as the Official Document Custodian, may keep courtesy copies of these records as long as necessary for that Unit to address a transaction or issue. However, that Unit should not keep courtesy copies of records longer than two years after the transaction or issue has been completed.

- 2.4.3. All Units have a duty to ensure that any records contained in the courtesy copy are provided to the Official Document Custodian and that the courtesy copy does not contain any Records different than those maintained by the Official Document Custodian.

3. STORAGE AND DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS.

3.1. Accessibility and Safekeeping of Records.

- 3.1.1. Units are responsible for ensuring that all Records (whether Retainable or Incidental) are secured in a way to provide appropriate confidentiality and protection from unauthorized inspection, theft, and/or physical damage. Each Unit should assess the risks of damage or destruction to its Records in storage areas and promulgate a retention strategy as needed.
- 3.1.2. All Records must be easily retrievable for examination by authorized individuals, including auditors and the Freedom of Information Act Office.
- 3.1.3. Each Unit shall comply with the Electronic File Storage and Back-Up policies as set out by Information Technology Services (ITS), which can be found at: <https://oit.wvu.edu/standards/>. Units should work with the ITS to ensure that electronic records are maintained in a format that preserves accessibility.
- 3.1.4. If a Unit needs assistance in developing measures to protect the confidentiality and unauthorized inspection of records, the Unit should contact the University's Chief Information Security and Privacy Officer.

3.2. Destruction of Records.

- 3.2.1. Each Unit is responsible for periodically ensuring the destruction of all Incidental Records and Retainable Records that have reached the end of their retention period. Retainable Records that have been identified as permanent records must be permanently retained in a designated storage area and/or archived.
- 3.2.2. Regardless of whether a Record is Retainable or Incidental, it should be appropriately destroyed at the applicable period of time. Acceptable destruction methods include:

- 3.2.2.1. Recycling: Generally appropriate for all paper Records that do not contain personal, certain financial, or confidential information. Examples include public records of other organizations, magazines, annual reports, newsletters, and announcements.
 - 3.2.2.2. Secure destruction: Using a shredder or shredder service for all Records that contain personal, financial, or confidential information. This includes, but is not limited to, all Records that contain attorney-client communications, student education records, health-related information, and certain financial information.
 - 3.2.3. Each Unit should consult with ITS regarding the destruction of electronic records.

4. LITIGATION HOLDS

- 4.1.1. The University may have the obligation to preserve all Records that might be implicated in litigation, an investigation, or other proceeding.
- 4.1.2. In such an event, the Office of General Counsel will issue a Litigation Hold to notify the specific Units and their employees that they must preserve all their Records (including Retainable and Incidental Records) relating to a specific subject matter.
 - 4.1.2.1. This includes any email or electronic records. Email and Electronic information should be preserved in its original electronic form.
 - 4.1.2.2. If a Litigation Hold is issued, destruction of all Records (including Retainable and Incidental Records) related to those matters that are the subject of the Hold must immediately stop.
 - 4.1.2.3. The employee or Unit that receives a Litigation Hold is obliged to preserve such information effective immediately and, if applicable, notify faculty and staff of the obligation to preserve records.
 - 4.1.2.4. In addition, the employee or Unit that receives a Litigation Hold shall similarly preserve any new information that is generated that may be relevant to the litigation, investigation, or other proceeding
